FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Wachs and Orbitalum Together in North America and Europe

E. H. Wachs and Orbitalum Tools GmbH, (ITW companies, Illinois Tool Works), have joined forces. The two companies will now be identified as the ITW Orbital Cutting & Welding group with the same great products, built to the highest standards in the United States and Germany. This will give customers the most comprehensive assortment of weld preparation equipment and orbital welding systems in the market.

The companies, products and services will continue to support customers just as in the past. Commitments to delivering the very best in customer support will remain unchanged. Plus, customers can purchase, lease and order parts, tooling and accessories all under one roof.

E.H. Wachs is well known as the premier manufacturer of portable pipe cutting and beveling machine tools for weld preparation. Orbitalum Tools GmbH is the distinguished leading manufacturer of orbital pipe saws, tube end facers, end preps and now compact, computer controlled orbital welding systems.
